INVESTIGATION IS BEGUN AT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Four Witnesses Testify in Regard to Alleged Mismanagement by Heber H. Thomas—Mrs. Lottie B. Halsted Tells of Cruel Punishment of Girls-Mrs. Crosbie Relates Pitiful Story.

ly appointed by Governor Spry to look into the alleged mismanagement of the Utah Industrial school by Superin-Heber H. Thomas, their labors vesterday morning, an executive and two regular sessions being held. But four witnesses were examined, three of them being former employes of the institution under Mr. Thomas' supervision. The investigation committee will hold the next regwlar session at either 9 o'clock or 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the members of the board, consisting of A. C. superintendent schools; District Attorney Nathan J. Harris of Ogden; Judge Gowan, juvenile court officer of Salt Lake; Rabbi Freund of Salt Lake, and three school trustees, Harold Peery, H. S. Joseph and John Walsh, met in executive session at which Harry S. Joseph was appointed to preside over the meeting; Nathan J. Harrls was chosen as examining committeeman, and Harrold J. Packer was given the position of official reporter.

Beside the regular committee there were present Mrs. Kate S. Hilliard, Mrs. J. M. Bishop and Rev. N. S. Elderkin, who are members of a committeo appointed by the citizens' mass meeting held at the Weber Stake hall and who drew up the resolution presented to Governor Spry, and a large number of persons was will be called upon as witnesses. The regular session was held in the class room of the school. The favestigating committee announced that the resolution which was passed by the citizens' committee last week at the Weber Stake hall, declaring that Superintendent Thomas was manifestly unfit to have charge of the school, did not make any spe cific charges, and asked that the citicommittee draw up formal and specific charges. Rev. Elderkin wanted to know what power the committee had in regard to the calling of witnesses and was informed that they would have no legal power-that they could ask witnesses to be present for examination but could not subpoenae them. Chairman Joseph announced that no counsel would be employed by Adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock to allow the citizens' committee to draw up specific charges. At 2 o'clock the committee again assembled and Mrs. Hilliard an-wished to submit the following: Ogden, Utah, June 14, 1909. Hon. Harry Joseph, Chairman of the Governor's Investigating Commit-

nounced that the citizens' committee

Dear Sir: We, the undersigned, cit izens of Utah, hereby, at the request of your committee and under the statement on the part of your com dence against Superintendent H. H. Thomas of the Industrial school unless such charges were reduced to such position, upon the following grounds, viz:

That in his dealing with the inmates of said institution he has at various times been cruel and treated the inmates in a cruel and inhuman manner, in this: By confinement in the solitary cell; by unnecessarily and without any sufficient reason confining the male inmates in what is known the cell and feeding them only bread and water; that the condition of the cell and the condition of the buildings where food is kept has at various times been unsanitary and not properly cared for; that he has in his dealings with the girls confined in said school been guilty of propounding unnecessary and indecent questions, and that the questions propounded required, if they had been complied with by the inmates, acts on the part of the girls which no gentleman would have asked or required of such in-

We further charge that Mr. Thomas by temperament-and which has been abundantly demonstrated by his management-is an unfit person to have charge of such an institution, and that his management of the same has not at all tended to the betterment or elevation of those entrusted to his care, and that for the institution to continue under such management is a reflection upon the whole state.

We submit as citizens that we should not be limited to any technical rules in presenting these charges, and we hereby state that if Mr. Thomas is taken by surprise by any evidence which may be produced before said. committee that he ought to be given such time as will enable him to get witnesses to refute such testimony, with the like privilege given to us in presenting any testimony; and we fur-ther submit that, owing to the nature of the institution in question, it ought to have and should have the very best talent, particularly fitted for such work, that can be had.

Respectfully submitted, After the charges had been submitted, Chairman Joseph announced that the committee was ready to hear the testimony of witnesses and said that no doubt much plain talk would be required, and that while the public was invited to attend the full session of the investigation, the ladies were at liberty to withdraw at any time they wished. Mrs. Bishop noted the presence of Attorney Hollingsworth on the stand and asked what his position was and was informed by Mr. Joseph that he had been appointed reading clerk of the committee.

The first witness called by the committee was Mrs. Lottle B. Halsted, who resides at 410 Twenty-sixth street in this city. She stated that she was tron during the absence of Mrs. D. T. y, who was away on a vacation held this position for one month and had from twenty to twenty-five eighteen to nineteen. She said tron and found the same conditions that Mrs. Tracy was the regular ma- prevailed.

The investigating committee recent- served at the school and said that the him she was denied that privilege and girls were not satisfied with it. She said that during the month of August she went to a point in South Fork canyon in charge of a vacation party of girls, and stated that Superintendent Thomas was negligent inasmuch as he allowed the girls to roam about at will while they were in the canyon.

Then came the real sensation of the meeting. Mrs. Halsted related that during the vacation trip she was seatled in front of her tent one afternoon and saw a girl rush up and whisper something to another who was lying in a hammock. She said she felt ex citement in the air, and asked the girl where the others were, and the girl pointed up a hill. She went up and saw Ada Sorenson, one of the inmates, being chased by a man, and as she came closer saw three other men running away from four girls, namely: Emma McKnight, Ada Sorenson, Minnie Wallace and Minnie Gordon. She called the girls to her and by the fumes of liquor discovered that two of them. Ada Sorenson and Emma Mc-Knight, had been drinking. She reported the matter to Superintendent Thomas, who questioned the two girls who had not been drinking. After his questioning, he announced that the party would break camp and return to the school the next morning. She said that she had had a hard month of it and decided to resign. Superintendent Thomas accepted her resignation, she said, with the understanding that she would return to be present when he "held court," as she termed it. To the best of her recollection, she said, 'court" was held, and she understood that during this time all four girls had been kept in a cell on a bread and wa-When "court day" arrived, the girls were brought in one by one, and in her presence Superintendent Thomas asked them pointed questions concerning their experience with the men in the canyon. "Questions such as I stated in my letter to the citizens' committee," said Mrs. Halsted. The committee was not satisfied with this, and required Mrs. Halsted to again repeat them. They were of a nature which-caused those present to hang their heads in shame, and a sigh of relief went up from all parts of the room when she finished. Mrs. Halsted said that the girls were deeply humiliated by the questions, and she herself was forced to blush with shame. She did not consider such questions proper ones to be asked by a gentle man in the presence of a lady. She mage complaint to Mrs. Tracy at once. she said, and to several other people connected with the school. She was questioned as to what other complaints she had made, and said that on one occasion Mattie Malan, a girl inmate of the school, was suspect ed of having some connection with the writing and specifically specifying the disappearance of a diamond ring be grounds upon which the committee is | lorging to Mr. Kneass, and was put in testimony, hereby a cell which, she sald, was not more charge the said Heber H. As to the condition of the cell, she said that it was totally unfit to be occupied by a human being, being narrow and having pools of stagnant water on the floor so deep that the girl was forced to walk on a thick plank to gc to and from her bunk. The cell Was both unsanitary and filthy

> She said that butter was served but twice a week at the institution, and that it was unfit to cat, none of the inmates caring for it.

Rabbi Freund wanted to know if she was in a position to know whether or not, considering the surroundings of the girls before they entered the schools, the questions asked them by Superintendent Thomas were of such a nature as to humiliate them. Mrs. Halsted stated that in her opinion the girls were very much humiliated by the questions, as most of them talked with her about them and said they felt the shame deeply.

Dr. Gowan then asked her if she thought the food served was nutritious and suitable for the physicial needs of the children. She said she did not think so.

Superintendent Nelson asked her if the questions asked by Superintendent Thomas were typical of those asked at other court investigations, and she answered that while she did not know she had heard that they were.

Rabbi Freund asked her why she had not told her story before, and she said that she did not do so because she thought the word of one woman. uncorroborated, would not be sufficient to have the desired effect.

Chairman Joseph then took the witness in hand and asked her if she did not think that Superintendent Thomas had done a great deal for the betterment of the girls at the institution; if she had not read the newspapers where it was stated that $20,000 had been appropriated by the state for the purpose of erecting a new girls' cottage and other questions of like na-

Superintendent Nelson asked her who was responsible for the menu served at the school, and she said she thought that Superintendent Thomas was, as all requisition papers had to go to him, and many of them were turned down by him.

Governor Spry entered the room at this minute and took a seat. Mrs. Halsted said the food served at the school was of a very poor order, that the syrup served at the morning meal was often soured, and the school was usually without hot water. Regarding the beds in the rooms for the inmates, she said they were very poor-bad mattresses and bad comfortemployed as a teacher at the insti-tution for nearly two years, beginning min prevailed to a sickening degree. her labors at the school in September, 1905. During the summer of 1906, she said, she was employed as may ticles being provided except a common chamber, and that the excretions were not emptied except on very sparse occasions. Asked if the same girls under her care, whose ages was employed at the school, she said sanged from fifteen to nineteen years, she had been through the school last support when on a visit to the maconditions now prevail as when she was employed at the school, she said one girl being fifteen and the others summer when on a visit to the ma-had a grandson, Robert D. Turner, who, when seventeen years of age, was committed to the school, in January, 1908. In August, 1908, he died of scarlet fever while still an inmate of the school. She said he was taken sick Sunday and died Tuesday night. She was not notified until Tuesday morning of the condition of her boy, as she called him, and that when she applied at the school for permission to visit that she did not see him again, although she and her husband had purchased a glass casket, at an expense of $30, which they sent to the school in order to be able to see their grandson's face before he was buried. Even then, she said, Superintendent Thomas refused her permission to see the boy. She stated that the nurse who had charge of her grandson during his illness had eight others to care for and that in her opinion it was impossible for one nurse to attend nine patients and give any of them proper care; that proper manner. She was asked if the boy had not een addicted to the use of cocaine before he was sent to the school and she said she thought perhaps he was, as she had seen him snuff something up his nose on various occasions. Mrs. Bishop asked her if she did not think the boy had been at school long enough before his sickness to have ridded his system of the effects of the drug. Mr. Joseph objected to this question, but Mrs. Crosby answered that she thought he had. Rabbi Freund asked if the cocaine habit was a greater detriment to the boy than improper food and she said that both

Mrs. Maud Malan, mother of Hattle Malan, was the last witness of the day. She stated that at one time she had two children at the school and when she visited them she found her daughter Hattie was being confined in a solitary cell which was small and unsanitary, the stagnant water being so deep on the floor that the girl had to walk on a heavy plank to get to her bed.

The investigation was then adjourned until 9 or 10 o'clock Thursday

There is only one drug store in this city where you can get a genuine specific for kidney disease. This is a strong statement, but we are prepared to prove it.

Here's the point: the census deaths show that of the tens of thousands annually dying from kidney trouble that over nine-tenths (to be accurate, ninety-two out of every one hundred of them) sooner or later assumed the form technically known to physicians as "Bright's Disease," although it is commonly called "kidney trouble" in the homes. It is known to those in the drug trade that Bright's Disease has been incurable up to a recent discovery, and as we have the monopoly of that discovery for this city we have the only specific for kidney disease in this city

In view of the census showing that over nine-tenths of all the census kidney cases sooner or later take this form, how under the sun can people who have kidney trouble expect to get well except through this specific

If you have kidney trouble our store is the only one in this city that has a genuine specific effective in nearly nine-tenths of all cases. In fact, if you will put the question skillfully to our competitors and ask them if they have a genuine cure for Bright's Disease they won't even claim to you they have, for the books admit there has been none.

We sent a long way for this for kidney-troubled people. Call and get literature and let us tell you all about it. Wm. Driver & Son Drug Co.

COUNCIL APPOINTS COMMITEE TO CONSIDER PETITION.

Reports and Communications Read-City Pay Roll Allowed-Printing Contract Referred to Attorney.

Very little business was transacted at the regular meeting of the city council last evening. After the minutes had been read, Hon. William Glasmann asked permission to address the council and, being given permis sion, stated that for several years Ogden had not had a Fourth of July celebration, and asked the council to consider his petition to have one this year. Councilman Flygare/made a motion that the council appoint a committee of five to look into the matter and report to the council at the next regular meeting. The motion was carried unanimously and President Browning appointed Councilman Flygare (chairman), Humphris, Wilson, Dickson and Austin as a committee for this purpose.

The matter of cleaning and repairing the various drinking troughs in the city was referred to the special water committee, as the sanitary committee, to which it had been previously referred, was without the proper tools or men to do the work

Chief of Police Browning presented petition for a new set of steps for the police station, and on motion the petition was allowed.

The report of the sanitary inspector showed that at the present time there are four cases of scarlet fever, one of diphtheria and two of chicken-pox in the city.

The appointment of Miss May Moran to the position of stenographer in the city clerk's office was affirmed. She takes the place of Miss Goddard, who recently resigned from that posi-

The city pay roll, earrying $3,050.98, was read in detail and allowed, the auditor being requested to draw warrants for the same. A communication from the county auditor, stating that $3,792.56 was due from the city to cover expenses incurred by assessors and clerks in collecting taxes in the city November 30, 1908 to May 31, 1909, was read, and on motion the amount was ordered paid. A. F. Parker, city engineer, sent a communication to the council, asking whether or not it would be possible to preced against /private contractors who had put down sidewalks in the city which had afterwards become defective through faulty construction, stating that while some contractors repaired their work, others refused to do so, and as a result sidewalks in various sections of the city were in very bad condition. Councilman Wilson was of the opinion that the fault was with the Inspectors employed by the city, by reason of their negligence in passing upon faulty work. Mr. Wil son made several caustic remarks concerning these inspectors, saying they were being paid $3.50 a day and were doing nothing. The matter, on motion, was referred to the sidewalk committee, the city ergineer and city attorney for report. The pay roll for the city waterworks, amounting to $84.25, was allowed. Claims from the waterworks department for $228.01 were also allowed. A communication from the board of education stated that in order for the board to have a room in the city hall it would be necessary to ask the Veteran firemen to vacate the room which they now use, and asked if it would be agreeable to the council if the board fitted up the room now used by the band boys for the use of the firemen. Considerable debate upon the matter was indulged in, and finally it was agreed that, if the firemen were willlng to move to the band quarters it would be agreeable to the council.

The street department asked that 100 feet of special hose be purchased at 80 cents per foot for use on the street washers. They have heretofore been using cast-off hose from the fire department, but there is none of this left. The request was granted by the council.

Councilman Humphris stated that the police committee had not met during the past week, and made a motion to take up the matter of increasing the ed stock on account of assessment No. salary of Guard Lever out of that committee's hands and pass upon it. His levied on the 27th day of July, 1908, motion was carried.

parts of the city were badly in need of and Councilman Humphris made a motion to appropriate the sum vis, vov for use in this work. After considerable debate the motion was withdrawn and another to the effect that the council should meet in committee of the whole at 8 o'clock Friday night and consider the matter thoroughly, was carried. A communication stating that users of city water along Thirtieth street, below Lincoln, had been shut off by some unknown obstacle from getting their supply was received. The matter was referred to the manager of the waterworks department for examination. A. R. Bowman, publisher and business manager of the Ogden Morning Examiner, appeared before the council and asked to be informed concerning a contract supposed to exist between the former owners of the Examiner and the city in regard to city printing. There is some question as to whether a contract has ever been signed, although the bid submitted for the printing by the former owners of the paper is said to have been accepted by the council and the city attorney instructed to draw up a formal contract. The matter was, on motion, referred to the city attorney, with a request that he report at the next regular meeting, giving all the facts in the case. The council then adjourned until Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Electric Fish.

The electric fish of the Nile, of which the Egyptians made pictures thousands of years ago, still inhabit the waters of that river. They are provided with an electrical organ which incloses the whole body. It is situated in the skin, and under a microscope is seen to be composed of millions of beautifully formed little disks, superimposed upon connected rows of minute compartments, in which are the terminals of nerves. The shock is produced by an intense current that traverses the entire organ from the head to the tail of the fish. It stuns small fish. The electro motive force in a fish eight inches long can attain a maximum of 200 volts. A single giant nerve cell at the head of the spinal column is the source of the impulses.

THEATRICAL

Played to Appreclative Audience at the Utahna Theater Last Evening.

Despite the efforts of local club women to prevent the production of the dramatization of Elinor Glyn's remarkable book, "Three Weeks," that story was er ted before a crowd of theater goer, who gathered last night at the Utahna theater in numbers large enough to almost fill the little play house. The performance was attended by many parties of young ladies chaperoned by matrons or parents, and the performance was apparently enjoyed by all.

The staging of the story did not de-tract from the beautiful manner in which it is wriften. The story is one of an intense love between two lonesome, unhappy young people, with the ending unhappy in death for the one and a broken heart for the other. There is a suggestion of impropriety in the book, but this suggestion is brought out but once in the play and the audience thought almost alone of the happiness enjoyed by the two, and later of the grief which wrecked both their lives.

Miss Beryl Hope, as "The Lady," interpreted the part, we believe, as Miss Glynn would wish to have it portrayed, and Harry C. Brown, as Paul Verdayne, the big, youthful Englishman, filled the authoress' description of the man nicely.

The three weeks of happiness enjoyed by the queen and the young Briton, followed by the tragic murder in a drunken, jealous rage of Her Majesty by the dissipated king of Sardonia, left the audience in a thoughtful, sorrowful mood as the last curtain was rung down, but the strong story of the faithful human love borne each other by the principals undoubtedly will leave an uplifting, lasting impression upon the minds of a think-
